

I stongly oppose the proposal to allow the greater concentration of media in the hands of a small number of media companies -- the proposal that the Commission is considering today, June 2, 2003. This is a serious threat to the diversity of expression in the United States.